What data is processed in the course of our video surveillance?

Image recordings of employees/suppliers/visitors to the respective properties. The resulting data may include working time data or location data.

What are the purposes and legal grounds of video surveillance?

The purpose of video surveillance and the associated data processing is the prevention of vandalism and theft as well as the preservation of house rights on our company/building site premises. Another purpose of video surveillance is to be able to trace damage to property and theft. Therefore, mere video observation (without recording) is not sufficient.

The legal basis for video surveillance results from our legitimate interest within the meaning of Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f) GDPR. The interest pursued is the protection of our stock, business secrets, personal data of customers, business partners and/or employees as well as our buildings and properties. In this respect, video surveillance serves as a deterrent, to enforce access control and to protect the objects (significant material assets) in warehouses, offices, server rooms and other areas of the respective monitored property.

Who receives this data?

For the video surveillance of our properties, we also use commissioned processors who, for example, provide, maintain or monitor camera systems. Corresponding order processing contracts have been concluded with each of these.

The commissioned processor is: BauWatch Projekt Service GmbH
Breitscheider Weg 117 b
40885 Ratingen

How long will your data be stored?

Your personal data is generally deleted as soon as it is no longer required for the aforementioned purposes. In individual cases, further processing of the data is necessary to avert danger or to prosecute a criminal offence.

The storage period is a maximum of 10 days.

What data protection rights can you assert as a data subject?

You have the right to information, correction, deletion, blocking, data transfer and the right to restrict processing. There is also a right to the return of the data provided by you in a structured, common and machine-suitable format. You also have the right to object. An objection to lawful processing must be declared to the responsible party. The responsible party will then no longer process the personal data unless it can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedom of the data subject, or the processing serves the purpose of asserting, exercising or defending legal claims (Art. 21(3) GDPR). If you believe that your data is being processed unlawfully, you have the right to lodge a complaint with a data protection supervisory authority.

Where can you lodge a complaint?

Pursuant to Art. 77 GDPR, you have the right to lodge a complaint with a data protection supervisory authority if you believe that the processing of your personal data is not lawful. The following supervisory authority is responsible for our company:
